Design Week 2022: Designing Human-Centered Cities

Join us for our 4th annual Design Week, a week of free talks, workshops, and an interactive installation focused on a critical aspect of design. One of our core themes at the Design Lab in the NYU MakerSpace is following an innovation design process, which encourages collaboration through community building and keeping people at the center of design. Design Week 2022 is focused on designing human-centered cities. Increasing populations and densification are two of the most complex issues within cities today. As a result, engineers, architects, urban planners, and designers alike must come together to create holistic, real-life solutions across all scales and design with the future in mind. Throughout Design Week 2022, we will work to answer the following question: how might we reimagine spaces within cities to be more equitable and inclusive?

Opportunities

Creative Capital is Hiring - Artist Initiatives, Associate

Reporting to the Director of Artist Initiatives, the Associate reflects Creative Capital’s commitment to resource, connect, and lift up artists who use their creative practices in bold and imaginative ways. The Associate is an integral part of the organization and provides mission critical administrative support for the annual Creative Capital Award program, Creative Capital-administered award cycles, and educational programs. The Associate will work closely with the Director of Artist Initiatives to implement all phases of the grant cycle - from applicant outreach and customer service to application review and award selection process. In addition, the Associate works closely with the DAI and Artist Initiatives team to provide support for Awardees and artists, including administration support for Awardee services and consultations, as well as educational programming.

Re-Fest Open Call for Submissions!

CultureHub seeks artists to submit a 1 minute video to be exhibited at Re-Fest that explores the theme of reunification. As we continue to fight the global pandemic and our ability to come together physically is limited, how can we imagine the world we want to create? What new rituals and modes of togetherness can be forged whether we are in a physical space together or not? All forms of visual expression are welcome.

- Submissions will close once we receive 100 submissions or on February 21, 2022, whichever comes first.
