Stress Management During Uncertain Times

This workshop addresses stress related to the current conflict in Ukraine and those affected by it. It also acknowledges that COVID-19 has disrupted our sense of "normal" and has really stress-tested our coping mechanisms. Whether you're coping well or floundering in stress, this workshop is designed to help you explore and, hopefully, gain a more helpful view of your own relationship with stress and what you can do about it if the change is needed. This is a workshop designed to help you gain a different perspective on how you understand your own stress, identify signs of stress, and what you can do about it.
