

design internship

help change the way change happens.

Blue State Digital is currently interviewing for a New York City based design intern for Summer 2009.

Blue State Digital is currently looking for a creative, talented, and resourceful design intern to help on a number of projects this summer in our New York City Office. The design intern would work directly with the design director and the production team on internal projects and presentation work, as well as high profile client work. This is a paid internship.

Candidate Requirements:

- Online portfolio of work or website for review
- Solid understanding of basic design principles
- General offline presentation and mounting skills
- Adobe Photoshop
- Adobe InDesign
- Microsoft Powerpoint & Microsoft Word
- Working knowledge of HTML/CSS/Javascript
- Eligible to work in the United States

To Apply:

Please visit the following URL to apply
<http://www.bluestatedigital.com/designintern>

About Blue State Digital

Blue State Digital harnesses the power of technology to target and multiply constituencies, activate groups, and revolutionize fundraising. A full-service online consultancy, BSD creates dynamic campaigns that integrate strategy, design, and software to unleash social networks of enormous scope and influence.

Although BSD is best known for developing and managing the online outreach and fundraising programs that helped Barack Obama raise $500 million during his historic run for the White House, we also work with a wide range of other clients, from foundations and nongovernmental organizations to universities, corporations, and media companies. The list of current and former BSD clients includes the Democratic Party, American Red Cross, National Geographic, US Olympic Committee, AT&T, Focus Features, Sundance Institute & Film Festival, and the Museum of Contemporary Art.

Blue State Digital is headquartered in Washington, D.C., and also has offices in Boston, New York, Los Angeles, and London. We are an equal opportunity employer.

blue state digital

Washington, DC Boston New York London Los Angeles